A HAPPY NEW YEAR--In the Traver family was assured with the January 1 8:05 a.m. birth of Erin Suzanne to Mike and Marsha Traver, 17372 Yorba Linda Blvd., Yorba Linda. Also pleased with the new arrival were brothers Michael and Craig. It is believed that Erin was the first baby of 1976 in North Orange County.

Erin Traver First '76 Baby

The honor of being the first baby to be born in North Orange County in 1976 is being accorded to Erin Traver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael (Marsha) Traver, Yorba Linda.

A survey of area hospitals revealed that Erin was born at 8:05 a.m. on the first day of this Bicentennial Year.

The Travers live at 17372 Yorba Linda Blvd. The birth occurred at St. Jude's Hospital in Fullerton. Erin has two brothers, Michael, 9 and Craig, 7.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Max (Marvel) McDaniels of Yorba Linda and the paternal grandparent is Mrs. Wanda Smallwood of Costa Mesa.

Missing out as a new Year's baby but qualifying as a tax deduction for 1975 was Adrienne Rebecca Bevans. The new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim (Barbara) Bevans, 5832 Oak Meadow Drive, Yorba Linda was born at Downey Community Hospital on December 29.

Adrienne Rebecca weighed in at six pounds, four ounces and is 19½ inches long. She, too, has two brothers, Greg, 13, and Zachary, 3. Mom is a member of the Yorba Linda Junior Woman's Club and Dad is employed by the Southern California Gas Co.

YMCA Salutes Board Members

The YMCA Extension office in Yorba Linda celebrated its first full year of service by honoring its Community Board members. Thirty six residents served this first full year thereby making the YMCA in Yorba Linda a positive force in the community. All were given complimentary 1976 memberships in appreciation for their work.

Carolyn Ewing, mayor of Yorba Linda, was given a special honor for being the first member of the Yorba Linda Extension. Mrs. Ewing was the driving force behind the creation of a YMCA office in this community.

She was also instrumental in recruiting the Community Board which is very active and successful in its work. It was also Carolyn's idea to include couples on the board.

In 1975 the Yorba Linda YMCA Extension and its board served approximately 2,000 Yorba Lindans. 600 participated in Y Indian family programs. 1,000 youth were involved in sports and social programs including basketball, wrestling, gymnastics, swimming and karate. 400 participated in adult and senior high programs such as softball, backpacking, and yoga.

The cost of supporting an office with a full-time director and running these programs was $32,000. $23,000 was raised through program registrations and $9,000 was gathered through community donations during the sustaining membership drive.

Members of Community board are: Roy and Arlene Criner; Phil and Janet Paxton; Carl and Jean Woodard; Bob and Phyllis Clemmer; Jack and Judy Meyers; Alan and Sharon Stewart; Nick and Susie Cannis; George and Betty Emblidge; Richard and Lucia Kust; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McKay; Larry and Beverly Baker; Larry and Diane Swenson; Bill and Mary Marx; Russ and Carolyn Ewing; Todd Murphy; Rob Boutain; Si Jones; Bob Beardsley; Bob Simensen; Roger Caruse; Joe Caruse; Jim Wohletz and Karen Kemp.

"CHEERFUL GIVERS" from Moravian Church entertained with their unique sound during the "Christmas in the Park" program at Nixon Park. Annual event is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

District Annexes

5.5 Acres

The board of directors of the Yorba Linda County Water District has approved the annexation of a 5.58 acre tract of land in the easterly portion of the City of Yorba Linda to the district in order to provide water and sewage service to the area.

Ralph Shook the water district's general manager, said Sant Construction Company plans to build 12 homes on the tract located east of Amberdale on Fairmont Boulevard.

The district's board of directors authorized Sant Construction to seek approval of the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFC). LAFC approval was conditioned upon annexation to the City of Yorba Linda.

After over one year of delays the city recently completed the annexation and the district is completing its annexation so that water and sanitary sewer service can be provided to the development.

Water Co. Will Ask 31.3% Hike

The Southern California Water Company, which services the Placentia and Yorba Linda areas, is seeking an immediate rate increase of 20.1 per cent with additional annual increases of 2.8 per cent in each of the years of 1976, 1977, 1978 and 1979.

The application for the increase is being made by the utility company to the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California.

The information was expected to be received and filed by the Placentia City Council Tuesday night.

Water is the one utility that does not bear a 5 per cent utility tax imposed by Placentia for use in its capital investments.

The increase, if received, would be applicable to all or portions of the cities of Cypress, Garden Grove, La Palma, Los Alamitos, Placentia, Santa Ana, Seal Beach, Stanton and Yorba Linda and vicinity, Orange County.

Launch Census

Taking of the 1976 census in Yorba Linda as part of the countywide special census will begin this week. The state appointed supervisor, Christine Ratterree, has been assigned to this city.

Testing of all applicants will be conducted on Thursday, January 8. Training classes will be conducted starting Friday, January 9 and continuing until the following Tuesday or Wednesday.

Actual counting may begin as early as Saturday, January 10 and continue for approximately two weeks. However, in the event of inclement weather or insufficient enumerators, the counting may continue for an extra week or more.

Two copies of a printout of the results of the census will be mailed to the city within 30 to 60 days. Further cross-tabulations may be done through the county's computer facilities at a nominal cost.

The Census Office will be located at 4701 Casa Loma and will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. including weekends. The supervisor and/or a city staff member will be at the office at all times.

Special Bicentennial Meeting

The next meeting of the Yorba Linda Bicentennial committee will be held Tuesday, January 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the Yorba Linda Library.

The meeting agenda includes a complete scheduling of events through the Fourth of July.

Please have your organization represented at this important decision making meeting.

Palm Ave. Park Site Purchase Approved

Yorba Linda City Council Monday night approved expense of $235,000 for purchase of the long awaited Palm Avenue park site. Councilman Whit Cromwell, who had opposed the move throughout, cast the lone no vote.

The city will in fact put up only half of the site's purchase price, the remaining half being paid by the county. Action had at first been delayed pending county approval, then had to be continued from the council's December 15 meeting when park advocates were unable to muster a majority vote due to absences.

Cromwell, generally a critic of the city's program of park acquisition, opposed the purchase on grounds that the money could be better spent elsewhere.

In other action, the council--*passed on second reading, thereby adopting, a city zoning ordinance amendment establishing PC (planned community) zoning for the yet-to-be-annexed Upper K Ranch to the east of town;

*approved expenditure of $3000 for resurfacing of tennis courts at Fairmont Knolls Park (originally the council had wished to provide lighting for the courts instead, but changed their minds when it developed that lighting would cost more than there were funds available; Cromwell voted against the proposal as an unwise expense);

*okayed spending $13,000 for city street striping (City Engineer Roy Stephenson had recommended that the city could save money by doing its own striping; when the city has no use for the machine, Stephenson said, it will be shared with neighboring cities, which will also share the expense);

*heard Stephenson report on progress of talks with the state over restriping of accident-plagued Imperial Highway (no scheduling is yet available from the state, Stephenson said, although state officials seem impressed with the need for the work; Stephenson himself guessed that "we're probably looking at two to three months before anything is done"); and *approved a motion by Councilman Cromwell to spend up to $200 for installation of a portable metal storage locker, a telephone, and a desk in the community center, housed in the Women's Club building at Yorba Linda and Valencia.

Police Beat

A weekend fracas in the early morning hours resulted in the arrest of four persons and the hospitalization of one of the estimated 15 to 20 persons involved.

The Saturday morning fight occurred at Fairmont and Yorba Linda and allegedly involved the use of bottles, stones, feet and fists.

Most seriously injured was Kenneth Trombly, 18, of Anaheim. He was taken to Placentia-Linda Hospital for treatment of bruises, lacerations and a fracture of the little toe on his right foot.

Adults taken into custody were Charles W. Perez, 19, of Anaheim; Jesse Ray Douglas, 19, of Anaheim; Melinda Lee Stansberry, 19, of Anaheim and a 16 year old juvenile.

The two men were charged with suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and the woman on suspicion of drunken driving.

Police are also investigating a reported rape of a 15 year old Yorba Linda girl. The victim said that at about 8:30 p.m. Saturday she was attacked by a man in her Meadowview Drive home.

The victim said the attacker held her at knifepoint. She said he was wearing a stocking mask and had a short "Fu Manchu" type mustache.

Sign Ordinance Hearing Jan. 14

A large turnout of local merchants is expected at the Wednesday, January 14 meeting of the Planning Commission when revisions to the sign ordinance, proposed by a Chamber of Commerce study committee, will be reviewed.

The Chamber made a presentation to the City Council in November. The matter was referred to the Planning Commission for public hearing.

Many merchants feel that certain sections of the sign ordinance are too restrictive and do not allow them to properly identify or advertise their business.

The Chamber study committee went through the ordinance, section by section, and made suggestions on over 20 sections which would be either more or less restrictive and more specific rather than general in nature. There were approximately 35 sections on which no changes are suggested.

The Chamber presentation included a copy of the ordinance with suggested revisions. This document was distributed and referred to during the dialogue on the subject.

However, because its contents are not generally known, those sections in question, along with the Chamber's recommendations for change, are published on Page 2 of this edition.

60 Year Subscriber

Recently the Star published a story about Jean Nougues of 4201 Prospect Avenue, Yorba Linda, being a 50 year subscriber to this newspaper.

In the story it was requested that 50 or more year subscribers notify us. The request resulted in a letter telling of a 60 year subscriber.

The letter is from Diana Halverson in Slidell, Louisiana. It was written on behalf of her great grandmother, Cecil Pickering, who lives with the Halversons and is still subscribing to the Star.

Mrs. Pickering is 90 years old and subscribed to the very first issue of the Star, about 1916. Mrs. Pickering at that time lived on a ranch on North Citrus (now called Bastanchury). That was in 1910.

Mrs. Pickering, according to the letter, left Yorba Linda to move with the Halversons to Fountain Valley in 1968. She then moved to New York with the Halversons in 1972.

A year later a move was made from Long Island, N.Y. to Maryland and subsequently to Louisiana in 1974 where she is still living with the Halversons in Slidell.

If friends of Mrs. Pickering would like to correspond with her the address is 112 Marche Blvd. Slidell, La. 70458.

The Star is still interested in hearing from other 50 years or more subscribers.

Rotary Club

"Yorba Linda--It's Beginning" is the program to be given Friday at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting at the Yorba Linda Country Club. The speaker will be a well qualified person, Hoyt Corbit.

Whitesell Rites Held

Funeral services were held Monday, Jan. 5 for Mary Agnes Whitesell, 65, 4731 N. Ohio, Yorba Linda. She passed away on January 3 at Placentia-Linda Community Hospital. She was born May 9, 1910 in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Whitesell is survived by her husband, Samuel; one daughter, Mrs. Donna Russell of Yorba Linda, one brother, Lee Anderson of Lakewood and one sister, Mrs. Rita Stuck of San Francisco.

Services were held at United Methodist Church, Yorba Linda and interment followed at Evergreen Cemetery in Riverside. Neels Brea Mortuary was in charge.

Paramedics Serve Yorba Linda

"Contrary to public opinion, the Paramedics are still rendering service to Yorba Linda although our unit is no longer based here."

That statement from a spokesman for the paramedics was issued because of several contacts they have had since moving to Placentia early in December in which people were under the impression that the life saving service is no longer available to Yorba Linda.

The spokesman said that response time on Yorba Linda calls is slightly longer than previously but that the "service is still prompt and we get to the scene in between five and six minutes."

The number to call if the paramedics are needed is still 538-3501 and ask for the paramedics. For general information dial MEDIC 1-34.

There probably are people who kept a busier schedule than I during the holiday season but with all the events included in a 15 day span from December 20 to January 3 about the best I can say for it is a "recipe for exhaustion."

The highlights as best I can recall went something like this: Dec. 20 - pick up son at Ontario Airport. Dec. 21 - family birthday party for son. Dec. 24 - office Christmas Party and family Christmas Eve get-together.

Dec. 25 - Christmas Day and dinner for family. Dec. 27 - Christmas party for wife's place of employment. Dec. 30 - small family birthday party for wife's and her father's birthday.

Jan. 1 - family New Year's dinner. January 2 - wedding rehearsal at church followed by dinner for wedding party. Jan. 3 - son's wedding and reception.

"Family" in this instance includes daughter, son-in-law, grandson; mother-in-law, father-in-law; son and fiancée; brother-in-law, his wife and three children; another brother-in-law.

Sunday, Jan. 4 was a day of relaxation, rest and recuperation. Not just for me, but for all the people I've mentioned except one. My grandson, age 4, was still going strong early Sunday evening.

I'm really not griping. All of the activities, especially the wedding of our 6-3, 200 lb. 21 year old "baby" were beautiful, exciting, and fun. We now have another lovely "daughter", courtesy of our son.

I learned one thing. The father of the groom is about the least important person in a wedding party. Guess you can call him "Mr. Useless."

We've already put one week of the new year behind us and some of those things we promised ourselves we'd do have already fallen behind on the timetable.

If registering to vote was one of the promises made I'd like to urge

Letters Friends Grateful

Dear Editor:

Thanks are in order to the many people of Yorba Linda who participated in the Friends of the Yorba Linda District Library's Bike-A-thon on December 13th.

To the 200 proud but weary children who peddled up to 21 miles under omnious skies, we say thanks.

To the adults who huffed and puffed alongside them shouting encouragement and mending flat tires, we express our gratitude.

To the dozen equestrians who participated, thank you. Thanks too, to the Brea police and Explorer Post #822, who helped with traffic control.

To Girl Scout troop #1549 and Mr. and Mrs. Saukko, thanks for the food and drink concession you set up in Featherly Park.

We thank Alpha Beta for the donation of punch offered to thirsty riders at checkpoints by Lorraine Alley, Ann Capron, Dolores Crume, Carolyn Ewing, Jody Fried, Margie Haller, Barbara Johnson and Sally Rhone. Thank you, gals, for manning your posts for those many bone-chilling hours.

Lastly, to all of you who sponsored individual riders through your monetary donations, we offer our heartfelt thanks. Through combined efforts, our Bicentennial project, the purchase of segments of the film series "America" for our library... will become a reality!

Sincerely,
Virginia Kroenlein, president
Friends of the Y.L. District Library

Big 'T' Reunion

Letter to the Editor:

everyone eligible to register to do so right now. Then the responsibility of voting in the several elections in 1976 is the next pledge.

Personally, I believe the nation as a whole should establish a record for voting in this Bicentennial Year. It is the best way we can honor the memories of the people who gave their lives and efforts to organize the United States.

This year's elections will give the people the opportunity to put into office men and women dedicated to the principles upon which this nation was founded.

But to ascertain if the candidates have the necessary dedication it is up to the voters to listen to them and ask them questions. Only by participating in a campaign can you make the right decisions on whom or whom not to vote for.

I have long felt that an election should not be valid unless one person more than 50 percent of the registered voters casts ballots. If that requirement is not met then another election should be held in 90 days. And they should keep having elections until the requirement is met.

The key to this is that elections cost lots of money. Money you and I have to shell out in one form or another. When it hits our pocketbooks then we'll get the idea.

Yorba Linda City Hall

ORDINANCES

The City of Yorba Linda was incorporated as a "General Law" City, which means that it is subject to the Government Code regulations of the State of California.

Certain areas of local control, however, are left to the discretion of municipalities. Local regulations/laws are known as "Ordinances", and are adopted only by the City Council.

During the City's eight years of existence, 265 Ordinances have been adopted. These Ordinances have been grouped by subject into a book known as "The Code of the City of Yorba Linda", more commonly known as the "City Code".

The various chapters of the City Code are amended from time to time by the adoption of new Ordinances. Copies of the City Code are available for citizen review at the City Hall or in the Reference Department of the Yorba Linda District Library.

The Codes are supplemented annually by the insertion of new pages containing Ordinance changes.

The State Government Code sets forth specific procedures whereby Ordinances are adopted. Ordinances must have two "readings" prior to adoption, which means that the subject matter is voted upon by the City Council on two separate occasions.

Following the second "reading" of the Ordinance, the City Clerk's office is required to publish the full text of the Ordinance in a newspaper published within the City. The Ordinance then becomes effective 30 days after the second reading.

The purpose for the 30-day waiting period is to provide a "referendum" period, which allows registered voters within the City to legally demand an election on the Ordinance. Specific regulations are set forth in the Government Code regarding the processing of a referendum petition on an Ordinance.

The original copies of City Ordinances are signed by the Mayor and witnessed by the City Clerk. Said copies indicate the members of the Council voting for or against the adoption of the Ordinance.

The original copies are maintained in bound books and kept in fireproof files in the City Clerk's records.

It is occasionally necessary for the City Council to adopt an "Urgency" Ordinance on a particular matter. Such Urgency Ordinances require only one reading and become effective immediately. The State Government Code sets forth those areas which can be covered by Urgency Ordinances.

One subject area which is not included within the City Code relates to zoning. Rather than including these comprehensive regulations with the City Code, the Zoning Ordinance is maintained as a separate 100-page booklet which is updated periodically.

Nix El Toro As Civvie Airport

Joint use of the Marine Corps Air Station at El Toro by civilian air carriers and military aircraft was "respectfully declined," in a letter from Assistant of the Navy, Jack L. Bowers, to Ralph A. Diedrich, chairman of the Orange County Board of Supervisors.

Answering for the Secretary of the Navy, J. William Middendorf, Bowers said approval of joint use is contingent upon four points: mutual benefit; military operations will not be substantially impaired; air safety hazards not significantly increased; and that there is no reasonable alternative.

All four points were determined in the negative, according to Bowers' letter.

Members of the Board of Supervisors had previously stated that the application for joint use was made as part of a search for solutions to the shortage of air transportation service in Orange County.

"Virtually every study done in the county in search of an airport site mentions the possibility of joint use of military air bases. We had to find out once and for all if that is a viable alternative. It is apparent now that El Toro is not an alternative," Supervisor Diedrich said.

Bowers said in his letter that information presented did not answer the question of alternatives was resolved, the evidence remains overwhelmingly in favor of disqualifying El Toro for joint use.

"Previous studies made by the county have shown that there is no available site for an international jet airport in Orange County," Diedrich said.

ANOTHER REVIEW--of the troublesome intersection of Mountain View Avenue and Ohio Street has been directed to the Traffic Committee by the City Council. Under study for a lengthy period of time, the Traffic Committee recommended a three-way stop, T-intersection, with a free right turn for those traveling west and then going north on Ohio. Striping and stop signs would regulate traffic. Council opted for a simple three way stop sign as a problem solver, with abuse of the free right turn cited as the reason for sending the matter back to the committee.

Local Artist Teaches

To highlight the Bicentennial year, the Muckenthaler Art School has announced that its winter workshops for young people, one taught by a Placentia sculptor, will focus on the application of arts and crafts techniques from American history.

The Art School, sponsored by the Muckenthaler Cultural Center, will begin classes the week of January 19.

Designed to provide students with as much individual instruction as possible, the Art School limits the size of its classes to 16 students. The enrollment fee averages $15 for the workshops, which meet for eight sessions.

Registration dates are January 5 through January 19. Registration will be taken by mail, or persons may come to the business office between noon and 5 p.m. weekdays. The Center is located at 1201 West Malvern in Fullerton. More information may be obtained by telephoning 879-6860.

Among workshops being offered is one in ceramics, painting and drawing, and ballet. The ceramics class meets on Saturday from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. for first through fourth graders, and on Saturday from 2:45 p.m. to 3:45 p.m. for fifth through eighth graders. Jess Dominguez, Placentia resident, is instructor.

Placentian Presents Certificates

The Orange County Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution presented its Certificate of Excellence to Freedom High School Band of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

The presentation was made by Chapter President, T. Larned Eastmond III of Placentia and was accepted for the band by Gordon Mowrer, Mayor of Bethlehem, who accompanied them.

The 240 member band, dressed in Revolutionary War costumes, was a feature in the Tournament of Roses Parade.

Individual Certificates were provided each member of the band as a souvenir of their trip West.

MORE HONORS
Esperanza High School's band earned second and the Drill team third at the recent Christmas Parade at Camarillo, Mike Johnson directs the band; Nikki Johnson the drill team.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

NEW ACTING DIRECTOR—of Community Planning for the city of Placentia is former City Engineer, Ben Minamide. Minamide, 42, who will have been associated with the city for two years in February, was previously employed by the city of Fountain Valley. He is a graduate in engineering from California State University, Los Angeles.

Condominiums Approved

After nine months of deliberation and opposition from the city of Yorba Linda, a development of four acres of condominiums on the Placentia-Yorba Linda border, has received approval from the Placentia City Council.

The development, which will contain 32 units on the four acres, is located on the south side of Mariposa Street, east of Highland Avenue.

The site has been the subject of repeated hearings and appeals and has been opposed by the city of Yorba Linda as unsuitable because of half acre homes in Yorba Linda which are in close proximity.

Phillip Paxton, Planning Director of Yorba Linda, also expressed concern for traffic conditions on the streets surrounding the approved condominiums. The area, Paxton pointed out, is the heart of Yorba Linda's horse country.

The Placentia City Council voted approval after Councilman Robert Langer explained that the area under controversy was one which the city of Placentia had attempted to exchange to Yorba Linda in a general rounding off of boundaries.

"If they had gone along with our suggestions, we wouldn't be having this problem tonight," Councilman Langer stated. "This proposal would all be in the city of Yorba Linda. Your city council turned it down," he reminded Paxton.

Concerning heavy traffic going north to shopping, Councilman Langer said that Placentia will have a large shopping center at the corner of Orangethorpe and Lakeview Avenue and another small one at Orchard.

"At this twelfth hour, if we were to try to change this (condominiums), we would end up in a lawsuit which we would obviously lose and believe me in our city we have enough law suits. I don't want to get involved with another one. I'd be in favor of granting this use permit," Langer concluded.

Charles Hiller of Orange, architect of the development, represented the applicant Charles L. Hermansen of Westminster. The original proposal on the application had been for a 10 unit per acre plan, which was lessened to eight units when the Placentia Planning Commission failed to approve it.

Just wanted you to know that I did not make any New Years Resolutions. Every year I set down three or four, and usually can't get past the first week without breaking them. So I said nothing doing this year. I'm going to have to barge right in without them. However, I did not mean to jump in so ferociously that the whole place shook.

That little quake on January 1st really started the animals to howling and yowling. I've never witnessed such carrying on. "Snoopy" was the worst, but the two cats weren't much better.

"Rupert", the house cat, climbed into my lap and put his head down under my arm. Poor "Nutter", the outside cat, just about tore the back door off its hinges. For once, my children remained calm.

Our outside cat, "Nutter", is totally demoralized anyway. She has been at the farm for such a long time that a house is all wrong for her. I didn't realize what a climber she is until I saw her swinging from the rafters in the garage.

Of course, the inside cat is no slouch. He takes a running start and runs lickety-split over to the Christmas tree, right up the trunk to the top. There he sits as the tree sways back and forth, darn near toppling over.

I put a stop to that by putting the tree out in the backyard. Naturally, he isn't interested in the tree now.

Funny thing about Christmas trees. They take about three days or more to decorate, and about 3 minutes to un-decorate. This was a good year, tho, because only one ornament was broken, and that's because of the cat.

Our collection of ornaments is fast becoming the unbreakable kind, made out of yarn or cloth. Several friends contribute to our collection with their handmade ornaments.

One thing that has become apparent already in this new year, and that is, two weeks are a very short

JEA Unit Writeoff

Writing skills are being sharpened by two projects undertaken by the Journalism Education Association (JEA) in two events scheduled during the current academic year.

A Trainshop held at Canyon High School in October gave some 400 high school and junior high time. Two weeks ago my older daughter came home from her 15 week voyage. Today we put her on the plane to return to her school in Oakland.

The two weeks went just like that (snap). We crammed a lot into the two weeks, Christmas, New Years, shopping, talking, eating, even a movie, but it sure was a fast two weeks, the fastest I've ever seen. Might even try for the world book of records. At least my daughter isn't so far away this time.

school students special training in various phases of journalism including writing, editing, makeup and even planning tips for yearbook students. Participants had a chance to meet with and receive pointers from professional journalists. The purpose was to complement the regular classroom education for beginning journalism students and also to emphasize basic fundamentals.

The Orange County JEA chapter will sponsor a writeoff competition for area students in February, 1978.

This is an aged Wisconsin Cheddar, medium sharp with full cheddar flavor, smooth texture and a deep golden color. Goes great with big red wines, as a dessert with fruit, or as a party snack with chips, or pretzels, also a great companion with beer. Our Reg. low price of $1.59 per lb, cut to only $1.29 per lb now thru January 18, 1978.

We accept BankAmericard and Master Charge for your convenience.
